Chapter One

Analytical Writing at a glance

The Analytical Writing measure assesses critical thinking and analytical writing: whether you can state and support a complex idea, sustain a focused and coherent discussion, and control the elements of standard written English. It does not test specific content knowledge.

Feature	Current GRE General Test
Task	One Analyze an Issue task
Time	30 minutes
Position	Always the first section of the test
Score	0–6 in half-point steps

Each Issue topic makes a claim that can be discussed from different perspectives, followed by specific instructions. Your job is to build a compelling case for your own position, following those instructions.

> What raters look for (in brief): a clear, insightful position; logical reasons and relevant, well-developed examples; organized, connected paragraphs; and precise, varied, correct language.

Chapter Three

Reading the instructions

Every Issue topic comes with instructions that tell you what your essay must do. The wording varies, but most instructions ask for one of these moves.

If the instructions ask you to…	Your essay should…
discuss the extent to which you agree or disagree	take a clear position and show where the statement holds and where it doesn't
address the most compelling reasons against your position	include a strong counterargument paragraph and answer it
consider the consequences of a policy	explain what would likely happen if the policy were adopted
discuss which of two views is closer to your own	evaluate both views fairly before choosing
discuss a claim and the reason given for it	evaluate both the claim and whether the reason really supports it

> Tip. Underline the verbs in the instructions (discuss, address, consider, explain). Then make sure each one appears in your outline.

Chapter Four · Analyze an Issue

Prompt A: Outsiders and discovery

PROMPT A

The most important discoveries are often made by people working outside established institutions.

Write a response in which you discuss the extent to which you agree or disagree with the statement and explain your reasoning. In developing your position, consider ways in which the statement might or might not hold true, and explain how these considerations shape your position.

PLANNING 1. For Prompt A, which thesis best fits the task?

A Discoveries are important.

B Institutions are buildings.

C This essay discusses discoveries.

D Outsiders are interesting people.

E Outsiders sometimes make important discoveries because they question accepted assumptions, but most major breakthroughs today depend on the resources of established institutions.

PLANNING 2. Prompt A asks you to "consider ways in which the statement might or might not hold true." Which plan follows this?

A Describe only famous outsiders

B List every Nobel Prize winner

C Show cases where outsiders made key discoveries and cases where institutional resources were essential, and explain what distinguishes them

D Argue that institutions are always wrong

E Define the word "discovery"
